BOLSHEVIST UPRISING IN BULGARIA REPORTED

Outbreak Is Said to Have Taken Place in a Garrison Town, the Garrison Having Joined the Revolutionists.

London, July 29.—A bolshevik rising in Bulgaria is reported in a wireless dispatch from Moscow. The outbreak is declared to have occurred in a garrison town, the garrison joining the revolutionists. The town mentioned in the Russian bolshevik dispatch as having been occupied by Bulgarian bolsheviks, is given as Amboli.

The dispatch also declares that a strike has been declared by the Bulgarian railway and transport workers.

GIRL STRIKERS RESUME WORK.

Burlington, July 29.—Most of the girls who went on strike from the Milk Chocolate company, when the company reduced their wages, returned to work yesterday morning at their former rate of pay. But few of the girls stayed out in sympathy with the men. John Walker, president of the company, stated last night that he had no statement to give the press. The men of both the night and day shifts, who have joined the union, have not returned to work and say that there are about 100 men out. Beyond that they also refuse to give a statement. Efforts are being made by their representatives to reach a settlement, and they demand a nine-hour day with pay ratio the same as when they went on strike, with time and a half for overtime.

William Emslie has returned from a few days' camping trip at Highgate Springs.

William W. Parry left yesterday for Concord, where he will spend several days with his family.

Miss Nellie Nixon of Hartford, Conn., is visiting friends in the city and in Granville for several days.

Roberta, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Beaulieu, who has been quite ill, is on the gain now.

I will sell at private sale one couch, writing desk, chairs, tables, dresser, dishes, etc. Mrs. C. R. Wood.

Mrs. W. H. Morley of Dorchester, Mass., formerly of King street, is visiting friends in the city for a few days.

G. W. Groom of St. Albans, assistant superintendent on the Central Vermont railroad, arrived in town to-day on business.

Miss Margaret Scott arrived yesterday from Lewiston, Me., to spend a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Scott.

William Cumming left this noon for Concord, where he will attend the Cumming-Parry wedding, which takes place to-night.

Mrs. E. M. Savoy, manager of the Direct Importing company, left to-day for New York, where she will spend several days.

Edward Sunderland of Greenfield, Mass., is visiting at the home of Dr. William Page. He is here in the interest of the horse races.

Captain Gile of Keene, N. H., who has returned after 18 months of service in France, was in town this morning to call on Warren Cummings.

Miss Alvina Pallas of Hartford, Conn., who has been visiting relatives and friends in Granville for the past few days, returned to Hartford to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sector, jr., of Merchant street, Mr. and Mrs. Athol Bell of Liberty street and Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan and son, Keimer, have returned from a week's outing at Highgate Springs.

Little Rena Downing of Cliff street celebrated 15 of her young friends at a party yesterday in honor of her seventh birthday. The afternoon was spent in playing games, and refreshments were served.

Arthur Soule of Evanston, Ill., traveling salesman for the Jones Brothers' company, is here for a few days at the home office. Before returning to Evanston, Mr. Soule will visit at his old home in St. Albans.

The case of State vs. Brisbane Palmer was brought up in court to-day, Grand Juror Sargent appearing for the state and Hoar and Fay for the respondent. Palmer was arrested July 1 on a charge of non-support of his wife.

Mrs. Albert Jamieson of Adamant, who was injured in a runaway accident last week, has been brought to the home of her son, Allen Jamieson, in Barre, for care and treatment. Mrs. Jamieson's back seemed to be injured quite severely and she had to be carried from the house to the ambulance.

There will be a meeting of the local horse race enthusiasts and others of the county at Waterbury to-night, to ascertain whether there will be races in Barre for the remainder of the season. Several local horsemen have their horses in training, as well as a number of horses from other parts of the county.

E. A. Young, an employee of the Montpelier & Barre Light & Power Co., who was severely burned by coming in contact with a wire at the Bolton Falls plant of the company several weeks ago, has been able to leave Heaton hospital and come to his home in Barre. He has not entirely recovered from the burns received in the contact, but is making steady progress.

Plans for a change of location of the links of the Barre Golf club will be considered at a special meeting of the club to be held at the Barre city court room Friday evening of this week. One of the plans under contemplation is the leasing or purchase of what is known as the "city pasture," located off Merchant street extension. These links would be about a mile from the city. If the plan is not accepted, it is expected that other proposals will be made to the meeting.

An accident similar to that of Friday night which resulted in damaging the rear fender of Mr. Emslie's new Studebaker car, was witnessed last evening in front of Lander's store, when a car, said to be that of Charles LeClair, a new Cadillac, bumped into the car of G. W. Luce of Montpelier and that car being driven onto the third, which was a Ford, and was moved about some 20 feet by the impact of the slight collision. Little or no damage was done to any of the cars.

Mark Bogdnoff of Chelmsford, Mass., was arrested last night by Officer Gamble and was taken to court on the charge of operating a car without displaying both number plates. When held up, the gentleman was sitting on the number plate, which should have been hanging on the front of his car. He said he had run the car from St. Albans to Burlington and through Montpelier and a number of little towns and gave as a excuse that he hadn't been able to procure the proper things to fasten the plate onto his car. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5 and costs of $4.45, which the respondent paid, and was released.

MONTPELIER

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawrence Were in an Overturning Automobile.

The automobile of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawrence turned turtle Monday afternoon on the East Montpelier road. Mr. Lawrence went out of the road to give a team a chance to pass, with the result that one wheel dropped over and the car tipped upside down. They had to break the windshield to get out. Others in the car escaped injury.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Eastman of Groton and Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Darling of Danport, Ia., stopped at the Pavilion hotel Monday.

Daniel Sullivan, conductor on the freight train on this branch of the Central Vermont railway, was called to Connecticut Monday by the death of his brother, who was employed as brakeman, and who recently returned from France.

H. M. McIntosh, who was called to North Hero because of trouble with the drawbridge last week, has returned to his duties at the State House. It appears that a large tug that had been used as a ferry boat, had been bought by the Standard Oil company and was being taken up Lake Champlain when the accident happened. The tug bumped against what is known as one of the "rests" that is used to support the ends of the bridge, when it turned from the usual position, and did some damage to that.

It also did some damage to the drawbridge, which Mr. McIntosh understands has been repaired so traffic has been resumed.

The secretary of state this morning received 35 reports of minor accidents. None of them involved any serious damages and no one was hurt, according to a statement made this morning at the office. There was also a complaint made relative to reckless driving taking place in Montpelier and places adjacent to it, and the numerous infringements on the traffic regulations in this section.

H. D. Larabee completed his services at noon to-day as the manager of the traction and power companies in this city and Barre, and Charles H. Cookson assumed those duties as his successor, while Frank M. Eastman became superintendent of the lighting company in place of Mr. Cookson. Mr. Larabee goes to Norwich, Conn., but will have nothing to do with the state of the employees of the Shore Line street railway.

Miss Dora Edson has resumed her work in the secretary of state's office, after a vacation passed in Grand Isle.

M. S. Noyes of Sharon, who is connected with road construction, was at the state engineer's office yesterday.

Alexander Dunnett and Harry B. Blodgett of St. Johnsbury were in the city yesterday.

AMERICAN PROTESTED BLAME ON CAPITALISTS

Tobin at International Trades Union Congress at Amsterdam Asserted that the Monarchistic and Militaristic Elements of Germany and Austria Were Responsible.

Amsterdam, Sunday, July 27 (By the Associated Press).—The first real session of the International Trades Union Congress opened this afternoon under the presidency of M. Oudgeest of the Dutch federation.

The statement of M. Oudgeest in his speech that "the capitalist systems of all countries were responsible for the war" was vigorously protested by the American delegate, Tobin, who contended that "the monarchistic and militaristic elements of Germany and Austria were solely at strictly responsible."

Oudgeest, after declaring that responsibility for the war rested with the capitalists, said it was intended to discuss measures for checking capitalist systems in order to prevent a renewal of the devastations of war. He continued:

"The second task is to discuss a labor charter, particularly from the standpoint of whether it meets the wishes, and desires of the labor classes."

He said the commission appointed for the purpose had not yet reported on the resolution of Herr Sassenbach, a German socialist, which explained the attitude of German workers during and since the war.

Tobin, in the course of his protest, said: "The American delegates will subscribe to no declaration that capitalists are responsible for the war."

Carl Leguin, president of the German trades unions, asserted that the militaristic elements of America were just as responsible.

President Oudgeest said that Tobin's statement would be discussed to-morrow. The congress then adjourned to be later received by the town council.

PRIESTS NEWLY ASSIGNED.

Many Changes in Vermont Have Been Announced.

Burlington, July 29.—The recent death of Rev. D. J. Sullivan of St. Albans and the resignation of Rev. C. D. Trotter of Island Pond have resulted in a number of changes in the Catholic diocese of Burlington, which comprises the state of Vermont.

Rev. John J. Boyle of St. Bridget's church of West Rutland has been appointed permanent rector of St. Mary's church at St. Albans. He succeeds Rev. D. J. O'Sullivan, P. E., who died last winter.

Rev. B. W. McMahon, who has been administrator of St. Mary's parish of St. Albans, takes charge of St. Alphonsus' parish at Pittsford Mills, which has been vacant since the first of the year.

Rev. John J. Cullion of the Church of the Annunciation of Ludlow assumes charge of St. Bridget's church at West Rutland, succeeding Father Boyle.

Rev. John M. Kennedy of St. Norbert's church, Hardwick, goes to Ludlow.

Rev. Charles F. Reagan, who recently joined the diocese of Burlington, takes charge of Norbert's church at Hardwick.

Rev. Joseph Therrien of St. Thomas' church at Underhill Center goes to Island Pond, where he becomes rector of the Church of St. James. He will be replaced in Underhill Center by Rev. J. E. Pariseau, who has been administrator of the church of St. Sylvester at Granville. Father Pariseau will be succeeded by Rev. Napoleon J. LaChance of St. Patrick's church, Fairfield.

St. Patrick's church at Fairfield will be supplied by Rev. Thomas F. McMahon, who recently returned from chaplain duty in France.

Rev. C. D. Trotter, who has been for many years in Island Pond, has resigned owing to age and infirmity, and will retire from active duty.

DEAD AND DYING RIOTERS LITTER CHICAGO PAVEMENTS; TROOPS ARRIVE

at its height. Some fifty thousand more negroes already live those parts of the city, and the police took precautions to stop any resentment shown by whites at the added population of negroes. This hegrira was stopped at daybreak by the street car strike.

A few whites were penned in their homes by angry negroes and had to telephone for police aid to escape. One family managed to elude the negroes by blacking their faces and departing in disguise. But aside from a few such instances, persons living in or near the war zone were unmolested physically if they remained within their domiciles.

Taxicab drivers, as news of the feud spread, refused to take passengers into the disturbed districts, and residents who lived along the car lines that were stopped had long walks through the field of battle. As far as the police could learn these persons suffered no affronts if they went quietly along their way.

The various affrays owed their initiative about equally to the two races, although the negroes seemed to be the prime aggressors, the negroes starting their assaults more as counter offensives. Most of the white rioters were young men.

The police devoted much of their activity to clearing the streets of negroes, and many of the fatalities resulted from the recalcitrancy of the blacks against the order to disperse. In one crowd at 35th street and State street, former Alderman De Priest, a negro, was with a crowd of negroes ordered to scatter. They refused, despite the pleading of the former alderman and two negro police sergeants, and the officers fired into the assembly, killing four and barely missing De Priest.

A police captain in the black belt ascribed the trouble to the hoodlumism of negroes who came to Chicago during the last two years to make up the shortage in labor caused by the war. He said his experience showed that the older residents, namely refrained from such clashes, having become accustomed to the freedom allowed to blacks without turning it into license.

Dead Negroes Not Accepted at White Mortuaries.

During the night hospitals in the region became filled and doctors were all over-worked caring for the injured. A negro corpse was taken into the establishment of a white undertaker and soon a crowd gathered and threatened to attack the place. News of this spread and thereafter dead negroes were not accepted by white mortuaries.

When the streets had been cleared in the negro section, the more persistent rioters marched down town and sought out negroes at their work. The police in these instances did not offer protection to the negroes. One hand entered a restaurant across the street from city hall, wrecked part of the furnishings, dragged a porter from the kitchen and beat him unconscious with a five gallon bottle. Afterwards several shots were fired and dispersed the crowd.

Governor Lowden before turning back to help stop the riots, telegraphed the following appeal:

"I appeal to all citizens white and colored to obey the law. There are no wrongs committed by either race that cannot be better redressed through the orderly processes of law than by mob violence."

"The entire power of the state will be used to restore order and punish those guilty of lawlessness. It is time for all good citizens, white or colored, to aid the authorities in every way possible to uphold the laws."

RACE RIOT SPREADS TO CHICAGO JAIL

Whites Outnumbered the Negroes by 20 to 1, and Guards Were Swept Aside.

Chicago, July 29.—A vicious race fight broke out in the county jail shortly after 11 o'clock. The whites outnumbered the negroes by 20 to 1, and the guards were swept aside when they tried to stop the trouble at its start.

TO WIPE OUT ARMENIA.

That Was the Purpose Back of Turkey's Acts.

Berlin, July 28.—What is described as the "truth about the Armenian massacres" is revealed to the German public by the Tageblatt, which prints extracts based upon diplomatic documents which the foreign ministry commissioned Johann Lepsius to write.

The writer shows that the Turkish committee of union and progress deliberately decided to realize national ideas by assimilating or destroying the Armenians, who in Turkey number about 1,650,000. He describes the arrest and massacre of 600 Armenian leaders in April, 1915, and how the previous so-called Armenia rising was provoked as a pretext for young Turk schemes. Lepsius repudiates the charge that Germany favored the crimes or that German officials incited the Turks to commit them, saying the German embassy was impotent.

Theodore Wolff, editor of the Tageblatt, in connection with the book, refers to the deportation of Belgian unemployed, saying that of 56,000 who were deported and treated as slaves, 1500 perished in two months.

ROAD TROUBLES ON SUNDAY.

Three Accidents to Motorists Occurred Near St. Johnsbury.

St. Johnsbury, July 29.—This town had its usual toll of auto accidents on Sunday, three being reported for the day.

On a return trip from Danville Sunday evening, Harold Coakley of St. Johnsbury, driving a Chevrolet car, in which were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Leonard of this place and a young woman, passed another Chevrolet, in which were five young men. Later the second car asked for the road several times, and Coakley says that he twice offered them the opportunity to pass, which they refused.

After coming up Western avenue, which is an exceptionally wide street, Coakley pulled off to the right, and the second car drew alongside, while one of the latter's occupants jumped onto the running board of the Coakley car and began to settle the so-called road dispute by taking Coakley by the shoulders, causing him to lose control of the steering wheel and to run into a telephone pole.

By the impact the young lady on the front seat was thrown through the windshield, cutting her head so badly that a doctor had to dress the wound. The bang of the car against the pole also brought a transformer down, and that section of the town was in darkness as a result; after seeing the outcome of his act, the occupant of the other car joined his companions and the five went on at a rapid rate toward Lyndonville.

Sunday afternoon a Packard car from New Jersey and a Buick from Michigan collided on Dole hill, injuring no one, but badly smashing the Michigan car. The Buick, in going uphill, attempted to pass a Ford, which brought the former directly in the path of the Packard. The Packard did not stop, even though it struck a rear wheel of the Buick, tore out every spoke and threw the tire into the road.

At East St. Johnsbury, Sunday morning, a Ford auto, driven by John L. Wesley of St. Johnsbury, and a Chevrolet, driven by Edward Trombley of the same place, collided on a curve. The Ford was only slightly damaged, and a front wheel of the Chevrolet was bent.

"RUSTLING-A BRIDE"

A pleasing western picture that is the very essence of romance. But there is a subtle touch of melodrama, and the attempt to cover up misdeeds by involving the innocent party. But here's where we don't tell you any more. See this interesting play for yourself, with Cuddles Lee as the star. Also a Voda-Vil, showing five of the latest vaudeville acts.

Wednesday, July 30—Fannie Ward in "COMMON CLAY"

A big special production. When Cleves Kinkaid wrote "Common Clay," he gave to the speaking stage one of its finest dramas. In transcribing this drama to the screen, none of its excellence has been lost. You will find Fannie Ward's delineation of the leading role excellent, and the manner in which the story is constructed will hold your undivided attention. Also a Mutt and Jeff cartoon comedy.
